HELLO!

Well, plink, plunk, ! Have I not grown this week? I grew faster than any "ten-pounder" that ever happened, or was fed on Mellin's Food. I am beginning to think that I'm some snuff. I think that my diet this week consisted mostly of vim, force and push. Anyway, here I am—twice as big as life and perfectly natural. Certainly you noticed I've changed my colors. Some thought I was the forerunner of yellow journalism in the city, but not so.—I'm not going to assume the aspect of a Hearst Sunday Special O no. Not me.

From what I can hear I was generally well received by the public. The four lads who "aviated" me to every house in the city last week weren't slow about it. I am due before noon each Saturday in every house in town. With these few short remarks, I will "roll my hoop" and go to press. S-s-solong.

Old Fort Macleod is no longer Old Fort Macleod. Macleod is coming to her own. The world is coming to know of "Macleod and Wheat."—World's Sweep-stake prizes for wheat! True, we still have the "Riders of the Plains." We still have the Indian with blankets and feathers. We still have beautiful scenery. Fish and suckers are scarce according to evidence at the sitting of the Commission on Monday last. Macleod is becoming more metropolitan all the time. Macleod is one of the foremost railway towns in the west with the prospect of being vastly more important. Hundreds and hundreds of acres are being broken this fall and you can bet your new Thanksgiving hat that the railways are taking note of it all. The railways will come. Macleod is no longer a spot on the map but a reality in the eyes of the world.—Especially to the 40,000 visitors, who were present at Spokane and saw Macleod wheat win the prizes, is it so. Just try to think of the publicity Macleod and district will receive from these 40,000 people.

BUZZ!

Ye Bean Guessing Contest,
Town Hall, Nov. 4th.

A permit will probably be put on for the fishing privilege.

There is a considerable activity at the elevators and railway yards these days.

The road in front of the fire hall is being repaired and put in good shape.

Diamond Coal, the name for clean, bright coal. No slack, large lumps. R. H. Hilliard. ad

C. V. E. Harlow has opened a barber shop and cigar stand second door north of the Empire Hotel. Ad in this issue.

Liphardt has ("more rings") installed a new cash register. May he be kept busy "fingering" is the worst we wish him.

So many new buildings and pretty comfortable cottages are being built, that our chief Buzzer reporter can scarcely keep track of them.

A masquerade ball will be given in the McBride Lake school on Friday, Nov. 4th. There will be good music and everyone is invited. ad nov 3

Cliff Church, who has been ill with tonsillitis, is able to be around. He will work for Mr. Fowler of the Empire Barber Shop.

And the goblins will get you at the Halloween Social, Town Hall, Friday, Nov. 4th.

You are entitled to a copy of the Buzzer each Saturday. We pay a number of lads to put a Buzzer in every house in town. Phone us if you haven't received one by noon.

A new press has entered our offices this week. We expect another press soon of the latest type and design. We will have an excellent equipment when this new Colt's Armory Press arrives.

In soliciting for advertising this week we have been asked several times re our circulation. We sure guarantee our circulation in all houses and business places in town. Strict care will be taken to have the distributing done right.

The first turkey shoot was held at the old Barracks Butts on Thursday. The following gents secured turkeys: Watt, 1st; Graham, 2nd; Alexander, 3rd; Fowler, 4th and 5th; Watt, 6th; Hill, 7th; Grier, 8th and 9th; Graham, 10th and 11th; Alexander, 12th.

LIEUT.-GOV. BULYEA

Recently sworn in for a second term. He is well-known in Macleod.

Buzzer is a household word.

"Mac and Me," Friday, Nov. 4th. Town Hall.

Mr. J. A. Smith, Auctioneer, is with us this week. Watch for his ad next week.

If those seven antiquated buildings on the north side of main street, east of the hardware store, were removed and the property built up, what an improvement to the city. They serve as a reminder of earlier days. There is quite enough room in the main business section for a few more sky scrapers.

The city street roller has finished polishing up the road along the main street. Macleod business section street is one of the finest in the country. Quite different to mud puddles and horse-eaten tie posts. no more post hay.

Early this week the police raided a house in town in which a big "crap" game was going on. Several more or less prominent men of the town were in the place at the time. The offenders were up before the beak next day and let off with a fine and a warning. No names mentioned on request.

How's this for a buzz. Calling card orders came into this office by telephone last Saturday morning at a surprising rate. We expected them though. We will repeat our offer this Saturday if you phone us between 10 a. m. and 12 a. m. Last offer on cards. Next week something different.

TOOGOOD—HEATH

Wedding bells jingled in Calgary on Tuesday, the 25th, when Miss Kittie Heath, of Vancouver B. C., was married to Chas Toogood, of Macleod, by the Rev. G. E. Gale, recently of St Paul's Mission. The bride is well known to Macleod people, having formerly been at the head of the dressmaking department of the Hudson Bay stores. She has lived in K... for the past two years. The groom is a prosperous farmer living south of town. V... m Heath, brother of the bride was best man. The young couple left for Spokane on their honeymoon trip and on their return will make their home in Macleod.

JORDAN-STAPLETON

The marriage of Miss Katharine M. Stapleton to Mr. M. L. Jordan was solemnized Wednesday morning at Holy Cross Church. The pastor, Rev. Father Blanchett officiated. Only the immediate friends of the family were present. Miss Stapleton is very popular in town and was for some years in charge of the business office of Reach & Co. Mr. Jordan is the Government Agent of Public Works Department in charge of bridge and road work now going on south of town.

The Musical Eckhardts are world famous—nuff said.

Mr. R. H. Hilliard is building a new auto shed on his property.

Somebody put a 'lien' on the Laurier arch in the public square. poor Archie.

The Buzzer was sent to Vancouver and another to the Hat last issue. Going some.

The Swiss Bell Ringers tonight will attract a bumper crowd. Come early.

Some one suggested a musical attachment for the city road roller. Next! (aisy Mack, Ed.)

Fire whistle blew last night at 6.20. The blaze was out before the brigade was 100 yards from the hall.

Work is progressing nicely on the new building next to the Bank of Commerce. The steel has arrived and is being placed.

The Churches

METHODIST CHURCH

REV. J. M. HARRISON, PASTOR

The pastor will preach a Thanksgiving sermon Sunday evening.

Rev. Aitkens, of Toronto, spoke last Sunday at both services to large and attentive audiences.

The League will hold a social on Monday evening.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

REV. R. BOYLE, PASTOR.

Thanksgiving Day. There will be a service in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church on Monday, Oct. 31st, at 11 o'clock a.m.

The Communion service of last Sunday was the largest on record, 10 names being added to the roll.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the ladies of St. Andrew's church was held in the Manse on Thursday afternoon, about 30 being present and quite a number of apologies were received. Mrs. Fortune of Edmonton, gave a very interesting address on Home Mission Work in Western Canada, which was highly appreciated. At the conclusion of Mrs. Fortune's address a missionary society which combines both Home and Foreign Missions, was organized, the following officers being elected by ballot, viz:

Mrs. Dunlop, President; Mrs. Boyle, Vice President; Mrs. J. W. McDonald, Secretary; Mrs. R. J. Gardiner, Treasurer. The business ended, tea was served and a time of social intercourse was much enjoyed.

MACLEOD'S BUILDING BOOM

(South Alberta Courier.)

Macleod has experienced a building boom this year greater than in any year of its history. Prior to the present year no official record of the volume of business in that town was kept, but authoritative statistics for the season of 1910 up to the present show permits to the amount of over $200,000.00. This is said to be more than double the value of building in that town last year, and the busy go-ahead appearance of Macleod today leads an air of truthfulness to this statement. A number of new buildings have been erected thus far, and though it is late in the season applications for permission to build are still coming in. The structures as a rule are two storey affairs, built of brick with stone front, and Twenty-fourth street certainly presents a vastly improved front as a result.

If Macleod continues to increase her building activities next year in proportion to the increase of 1910 over the volume for 1909 her record for next season should indeed be very gratifying. Indications point to an era of progress and prosperity in Macleod of which her citizens should be very proud.

THE JOKER

A shut mouth catches no flies.

Many are cold, but few are frozen.

Mike: What's wrong Pat?

Pat: Oh, nothing much, caught hay fever sitting next to a grass widow on a street car.

Talking about street cars reminds us that Macleod will have cars in 1915. That's going some. Time to look up cure for hay fever.

Why not be confident as to the building of our street car line, when we have so much stock on hand—wheels in our heads, for instance.

"I thought you were engaged."

"Well, I was—for a while."

"Did she throw you over?"

"Oh no, I found out she had an artificial arm—so I broke it off."

Father: You know the old saying a rolling stone gathers no moss.

Prodigal: I know father, but a standing one often gets sat on.

POWER OF THE PRESS

We clip the following for the benefit of those who doubt the power of the press:

"Owing to the overcrowded condition of our columns, a number of births and deaths are unavoidably postponed this week."

RING THE DOOR BELL.

"My uncle used to smoke his pipe and blow smoke-rings that would float across the room and ring the door-knob."

"My uncle," said the other liar, dreamily, "used to blow some that would ring the doorbell."—Puck.

NOT BEYOND HIM AT ALL

In a certain restaurant at one time customers' wants were looked after by a waiter who was renowned for the clever way in which, when shouting down the dumb waiter to the cook, he interpreted the different dishes. For instance, if a customer ordered sausage and bread, he told the cook "a door-step and a bag of mystery" were required. In consequence of this, two city men had a wager, one of them saying he was sure he could give an order which the waiter would find it impossible to twist in his usual way.

Accordingly they repaired to the restaurant and Mr. Brown gave his order:

"Waiter, bring me a couple of poached eggs on toast with the yolks broken."

The waiter shouted down to the cook: "Adam and Eve on a raft and wreck 'em."

THE HONOR ROLL

In some mysterious manner the following list was omitted from the school report of last week's issue: The younger set were disappointed in not finding their names in the honor roll. The children mentioned below will each receive a free copy of the Advertiser with their name in by calling at this office after school Thursday or Friday.

Jr. St. I Class A. Cora Hicks, Teddy Brown, Roy Charlton.

Jr. St. I Class B. Rosie Orbell, Roy Napper, Kenneth Lancaster.

Jr. St. I Class C. Irvine Watts, Margaret McNeill, Duncan McNeill, Terence Mathews.

Jr. St. I Class D. Irene Beattie, Charles Davis, Fred McKay. Primary Room, Class A. Lillian Scheer, Fred Beattie.

Election Agent: That was a good long speech our candidate made on the agricultural question, wasn't it?

Farmer: "Oh, ay, it wasn't bad, but a couple o' nights good rain ud a done a sight more good."

shipment of English Silverware, including goods of a most serviceable kind for presents.

Have you tried Diamond Coal
yet? if not send your order in.
It is just as good as any coal on the market. R. H. Hilliard. ad

After last night's trip on the moving pictures, some of us know more of the antarctic ocean which Shackleton went into after the south pole.

Barnes & McNay have just received another large shipment of fancy goods. Those desirous of buying presents can't do better than see these goods.

Mr. J. H. Brooks announces his agency for cut flowers in this issue. For 16 years he has been in the floral business and will open a greenhouse later when he will report plants and engage in general floral culture.

We will be pleased to insert free in our columns under a
"social" heading, a list of the
"at home" days of the ladies of the town. Just 'phone us your name and days at home. We will be glad to report five o'clock teas and evening affairs.

Don't Substitute

Always give your customers what they ask for. "Just as good" or
"the same thing" may make one sale at a large profit, and at the same time lose the confidence and trade of a dissatisfied patron. : : :

Effective Advertising

THE MERCHANT should not be susceptible to the hundred and one non-productive advertising schemes that are hatched daily by the here-to-day-and-away-to-morrow solicitors. Save all these dollars and you will find that the money you have wasted would more than pay for a brilliant electric sign in front of your place of business. You could talk to the army of buyers who are constantly on the street.
